Organizational Note:

The Indianapolis Conversation Club #3 was formed in 1878 by Quaker women who wished to promote social and literary advancement. In 1888, the group changed their name to the Friends History Club. Clio Club became the organization's name in 1889.

This collection consists of the minutes of the Clio Club from its first meeting in 1878 until 1937. These records give information of member attendance and details about the meeting's programming. The second part of the collection are the programs for the Clio Club meetings from 1888-1935. These give information on when and where the club will meet, as well as who will be presenting what topics at the meeting.
